

Armando Fernandez is Area Manager for External Affairs for Florida Power & Light Company, the largest electric utility in Florida and one of the largest rate-regulated utilities in the United States. FPL serves 4.7 million customer accounts in Florida and is a leading employer in the state with approximately 10,000 employees. The company consistently outperforms national averages for service reliability while customer bills are below the national average. A clean energy leader, FPL has one of the lowest emissions profiles and one of the leading energy efficiency programs among utilities nationwide. FPL is a subsidiary of Juno Beach, Florida-based NextEra Energy, Inc. (NYSE: NEE).

Prior to joining FPL's External Affairs Department in 2012, Mr. Fernandez worked for FPL FiberNet, a Subsidiary of FPL's Parent Company NextEra Energy, as their Wireless Attachment Project Manager & Fiber to the Cell Site Program Manager. Preceding Mr. Fernandez' engagement with NextEra Energy, He served as T-Mobile Wireless's Regional Development Manager for Southern Florida and in that capacity managed the deployment of their cellular infrastructure for all of South Florida including the network launch of their Ft. Myers BTA. While at T-mobile, Mr. Fernandez was asked to serve on the E911 subcommittee reporting to the State Legislature on the deployment of E911 services. Before Mr. Fernandez' extensive work in the telecom industry, he served for seven years as Chief of Staff to County Commissioner Miguel Diaz de la Portilla.

Mr. Fernandez was born and raised in South Florida and resides in Coral Gables with his wife Analia and 1 year old son Marcus. Mr. Fernandez received his undergraduate degree in public administration from Florida International University where he graduated Magna Cum Laude as a member of the Golden Key National Honor Society and Phi Kappa Kappa Honor Society.